ELCK'S GENERALS START FOR RICHMOND TO-DAY

TWENTY-TWO FOOTBALL PLAYERS COMPOSE SQUAD

Coach Elcock Has Not Decided Who Will Take to Field—Generals to Have Strong Line-Up.

HEADQUARTERS AT JEFFERSON

Manager and Team Will Arrive This Afternoon and Go at Once to Hotel—Georgetown Eleven Also Expected To-Night.

LEXINGTON, VA., October 15.—Coach Elcock has not yet definitely decided on the Washington and Lee line-up for the all-important game to be played with Georgetown in Richmond on Saturday, but to-night he selected the twenty-two men who are to compose the generals' squad. The men who are to make the team to Virginia's largest city are: Stimm, Harrison, Seelye and Graham, ends; Sultz, Miles and Bryan, tackles; Seary, Dingwall, Krusen, Camp and Izard, guards; Patti and Barrow, centers; Donahue and Bagley, quarter backs; Young, Gallagher, Milner and Smith, half backs, and Seehring and Sweetland, full backs.

The team, accompanied by its managers, coaches, starts for Richmond at noon to-morrow and will make its headquarters while in that city at the Jefferson Hotel.

It is a certainty that Miles and Shultz will play the tackle positions; that Stimm will be at the left end of the line; that Donahue will play the quarter; that the halves will be Young and Gallagher, and that Dingwall will be stationed at right half. Seehring or Sweetland, both of them powerful line-breakers, will play at full, and the right end will be either Harrison, whose home is in Richmond, or Seelye, the former Staunton Military Academy player. Patti, who was an all-scholastic center in Boston, and who has played both the pivot position and at end for Washington and Lee, this scheme will snap the ball back, and so may Barrow.

Barrow also may be utilized at left guard.

In all probability Washington and Lee's centre trio will consist of Seary, Patti and Dingwall, the combined weight of these men being 400 pounds. The 1913 and 1914 records of Washington and Lee and of Georgetown follow:

WAKE FOREST ELEVEN WILL BE IDLE TO-MORROW

Meet Washington and Lee Saturday Following, and Will End Season at Davidson on Charlotte.

WAKE FOREST, N.C., October 15.—To date Wake Forest has played two scheduled football games, losing the first one to the Agricultural and Mechanical college 23 to 0, and winning from the training ship Franklin 12 to 0. An exhibition game was played on Saturday during the fair with Carolina, and was lost by the same score as the Agricultural and Mechanical game. Wake Forest did not play her best men in this game, for it was only two days before the scheduled game with Carolina. Wake Forest's lineup for Saturday is as follows: Wake Forest has no game Saturday, but on Saturday week they go up against one of the best teams in the South, Washington and Lee. The total of 136 points, and they are after the second year. Wake Forest's record is predicted. Last year the score was in favor of the Generals. Wake Forest will present fully as strong a line-up against them this year as they did last year.

ST. PAUL TO PLAY UNION

In Union's first game of the season Coach Fisher will send his husky line-up against the gritty team of the St. Paul Normal and Industrial Institute to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The game is to be played in the recently enclosed Hovey Park on the university's campus.

Virginia Union's eleven has been at hard work since October 1, and is now in shape.

From all reports St. Paul has a good team, and will give Union a hard tussle.

M'GOORTY RETURNS AND ISSUES CHALLENGES

SAN FRANCISCO, October 15.—Eddie McGorty, the hard-hitting Oshkosh middleweight, arrived to-day on the steamer Sonoma, after a ten months' tour of Australia. McGorty at once issued a challenge to fight Chip Clabby or Gibbons for the middleweight championship of the world.

"I will challenge the winner of the Chip-Clabby battle, and give him a side bet," said McGorty.

LEAVES HOME IN STAUNTON AND IS DROWNED IN FLORIDA

STAUNTON, VA., October 15.—David Humman, a well-known Confederate veteran of this city, past eighty years of age, left home on Sunday, and his wife believed he had gone to visit relatives in the county, as he often did. Last evening she received a telegram from an undertaking establishment in Jacksonville, Fla., saying that Mr. Humman had been drowned there, and asking what disposition to make of the body. He never was in Florida before, had no friends or relatives there, and there is no explanation of his trip. No particulars were given of the drowning. It is thought by his wife and friends that his mind must have been come affected, and that he took the train without knowing what he was doing. He leaves two brothers—John A. and William M. Humman—old veterans and well-known citizens.

WARRENTON HUNT CLUB HOLDS SUCCESSFUL MEET

Large List of Entries Features Big Day of Sport on Course on Farm of William F. Wilbur.

COSTUME EVENTS ENJOYED

Big Crowd From Richmond, Washington, Baltimore, New York and Philadelphia Attend—Festivities Wind Up With Ball.

WARRENTON, VA., October 15.—The meet of the Warrenton Hunt Club took place here to-day on the course on the farm of William F. Wilbur, master of foxhounds, Warrenton Hunt, and in spite of unfavorable weather conditions, was thronged by about 2,000 people, and the day was one of clean, good sport featured by large classes in the horse show events and brilliant jumping. The smallest class contained nineteen entries, and the performances, on the whole, were splendid. In the first class, for open to all jumpers, of thirty-one entries, there were twelve clean performances to be jumped off. The victory finally went to Mrs. William H. Pool's Arab, exhibited by Mrs. Pool. Aquilla, the splendid black belonging to William F. Wilbur, took second place, while J. K. Maddux's Lady Betty was placed third by the judges, who were Messrs. R. W. Daniell and Duane Dubuque.

The second class of green hunters brought out twenty-one good ones. Mrs. J. K. Maddux's Pull Cry, shown in a most perfect performance by Mrs. F. A. B. Portman, was placed over Jack Senhouse, of R. R. Barrett, and Lady Elway, now the property of P. G. Hostetter.

The class of greatest interest was the lady hunters, with nineteen animals listed. Aquilla, owned by W. F. Wilbur, but shown by Mrs. C. H. Sultz, was placed first, with Steptoe, owned by Richard Wallach, exhibited by Miss Edith Shepherd Wallach, was second. Jack Senhouse, shown by Mrs. Portman, was placed third. The last of the horse show events, the class of hunters, green hunters, of twenty-eight entries, was won by Harrison and Smith's Jocko, shown by Courtland H. Smith. Aquilla was second, and Frank Wooden, shown and exhibited by Chilton class, was given the yellow rosette. There were no falls in the jumping classes. Luncheon was then served on the grounds.

Costume Class in Afternoon.
The costume class followed the lunch hour. Cups were given by R. R. Barrett for the cleverest and most humorous exhibit. Fifteen floats and entries filled the ring. The cups were awarded to a float of Mrs. John S. Gaines and Miss Elizabeth Gaines, entitled America's gift to the Nations, six girls represented the different countries. Miss Elizabeth Gaines, as America, was a picture. Russian peasants in festive dress, by Miss Olivia Fell and Mrs. P. Agnew, was placed second. Mrs. William C. Hayes, as Joan of Arc, with Spillman as pages, was the best individual entry. Her costume and appointments were perfect. Joe was placed third.

The cup for the best humorous exhibit was given to Mrs. R. R. Barrett, the same being a coach filled with men dressed as women under the name of the Wilmington.

The second ribbon in this class was given to an "Uncle Remus" float entered by Mrs. Richard Wallach, which contained all the animals, the tale being told by Mrs. John S. Gaines and Miss Elizabeth Gaines, entitled America's gift to the Nations, six girls represented the different countries. Miss Elizabeth Gaines, as America, was a picture. Russian peasants in festive dress, by Miss Olivia Fell and Mrs. P. Agnew, was placed second. Mrs. William C. Hayes, as Joan of Arc, with Spillman as pages, was the best individual entry. Her costume and appointments were perfect. Joe was placed third.

The cup for the best humorous exhibit was given to Mrs. R. R. Barrett, the same being a coach filled with men dressed as women under the name of the Wilmington.

CAPTAIN BAIN AND TWO PLAYERS ON INJURED LIST

Chances of V. M. I. Against Gallaudet To-Morrow Lessened by Loss of These Stars From Line-Up.

LEXINGTON, VA., October 15.—With Captain Bain, the hospital and Cammer and Holderby out of the game due to bad shoulders, the outlook for Saturday's game at the Virginia Military Institute is not at all encouraging. Bain's injuries, however, are slight, and it is possible that he will be in shape when the team lines up for the next battle. In the loss of these men the team will be greatly handicapped, as it will be very hard to fill their places. Gallaudet is the next opponent to be tackled, has an unusually strong team this year, having held Fordham to a 7 to 6 upset.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOY TAKES FATAL DOSE OF POISON

ORANGE, VA., October 15.—Raleigh Hamilton was found dead in his bed early to-day. Near him were two empty bottles which had contained strychnine and laudanum, and a note to his parents saying he was losing his mind and preferred to die, and asking them to prosecute the druggist from whom he had obtained the poisons.

Young Hamilton was seventeen years old, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hamilton. Yesterday afternoon he bought six grains of strychnine from a local druggist, saying his father, who is a farmer, wanted it to kill rats. No one suspected that he contemplated such an act. The funeral will be held from the house to-morrow with the burial in the family graveyard near Warrenton.

SNAPPY PRACTICE HELD BY WILLIAM AND MARY SQUAD

WILLIAMSBURG, VA., October 15.—"Doc" Marrow arrived from Hampton yesterday, and was out assisting Coach Draper in whipping the squad into shape for the game with the Yellow Jackets Saturday.

"Doc" made a reputation as tackle here and as coach of William and Mary Academy and Hampton High, and his preference caused rejoicing among the local fans.

Yesterday afternoon the liveliest scrimmage seen on Cary field this season was witnessed, and that of this afternoon, too, was of the red hot variety. Early in the big game, it is out again, after a two weeks' lay-off.

The work of the line is showing improvement, and the plays are being gotten off with greater speed.

The biggest athletic rally of the season will be held in the chapel to-night to get ready for the Randolph-Macon game. Dr. Wilson, of the faculty, and "Doc" Marrow will make addresses. Saturday's contest will be William and Mary's first championship game.

HERO OF THE WORLD'S SERIES

HANK GOWDY.
Now that the world's series is over and we can look back dispassionately and measure up the merits of each man who took part in the big fight, the one big outstanding figure is that of the catcher for the Braves. Every world's series produces its hero, and this year it is Hank Gowdy. That same Gowdy before the contest was considered the one weak link in the Braves' sterling chain. He came through so strong, however, that he cleaned up all records for batting in a post-season event. Hank rose to his present fame from the lowly position of bat tender for the Columbus American Association team.

CAROLINA CONCLUDES PREPARATION FOR GAME

Will Go After Georgia With Determination to Win—Coach Trenchard Says Tar Heels Have Even Chance.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., October 15.—Carolina's football squad concluded its preparation for the contest with the University of Georgia this afternoon. Mass-meeting held to-night evinced hopes for a victory over Georgia. Coach "Doggie" Trenchard and George Stephens, of Charlotte, chairman of the game, addressed the squad, each made brief talks at the gathering.

A signal drill of one-half hour continued the practice of the squad this afternoon. The rainy weather curtailed the usual three-hour practice. A long workout was conducted Wednesday afternoon, ending with a scrimmage between the first and second string men. The varsity overcame the scrubs by a score of 14 to 0.

MAJOR LEAGUE MANAGERS LIKELY TO ADOPT SCHEME

Stallings' Method of Varying Attack at First Considered in Nature of Joke by Rivals.

WHITTIED IS ONLY REGULAR

Other Braves Outwarders Depend Upon Slabmen Selected by Opponents—Method of Using Pitchers Also Meets With Approval.

It is quite likely that many of the big league managers will adopt the Stallings method of varying the attack according to what sort of a pitcher is working for the opposition.

Stallings has five regular outfielders: Catchers, Whittied, Connolly, Moran and Mann. And yet, only one of the five can be counted as a regular. That's Whittied. He's the regular center fielder, and holds down the job no matter whether the opposition play a left-handed or right-handed pitcher.

If the other side uses a right-handed twirler Stallings uses Moran, Connolly and Whittied. If a southpaw goes against the Braves, Stallings moves immediate shift, replacing Connolly and Moran, who are left-handed hitters, with Mann and Catchers, who are not from the other side of the plate.

When Stallings first introduced the plan the other managers scoffed at it. During the early part of the season it didn't seem to work out to great advantage. Some thought it was because the idea was a "stunt," but it wasn't. It was because Stallings didn't have the right kind of outfielders to use in the scheme. When he secured Catchers and Whittied from Cincinnati, he had the right combination.

Stallings' success since then attracted the attention of all the other big league managers. Those who were prone to scoff at first changed their attitude. They studied the results of the Stallings mode of attack, and they discovered the results very beneficial to the Braves.

Stallings, when putting his ever-changing third pitching scheme into operation, said that he was sure that it would not harm the pitchers. He said that working a pitcher every third day would keep his arm in better shape and working him every fourth day would keep his arm in better shape. Other managers soon adopted the plan. They said it would wreck the pitcher's arm.

Did it? Connolly, the Boston slugger, is a newcomer in the game of the Braves, but from his work during the past season, it looks as if he will continue to be a valuable member of the team for some time. He's just a kid, in years and experience, and has many years of usefulness before him.

Connolly has a free and easy swing that is carried along by a pair of powerful shoulders. He has a fine eye and times his swing with perfect timing. His drives are hard and on a line, with nothing fluky about them.

SECOND ATHLETIC MEET FOR EAST END SCHOOLS

Six East End schools, Bellevue, Nicholson, Chimborazo, Springfield, Fairview and Jefferson, will meet at the Church Civic Association Field this afternoon. Great crowds of boys from the above schools have been in training for the past three weeks, and all will be ready to give their best. The trophy must be won twice, though no in succession, before it becomes the property of any one school.

Richmond's Pitcher Leads for Prize Offered in Three Cushion Tournament at the Superior.

EXHIBITION MATCH VERY CLOSE

Olmstead and Quinn Feature Pocket Billiard Contest, the Latter Winning by Score of 100 to 90—Two Games To-Morrow.

The handicap three-cushion tournament at the Superior Billiard Parlor is well under way, and furnishing rare sport for the lovers of the game.

In the contest yesterday afternoon Strain (23) defeated Bryant (22) by the score of 23 to 16, and also set a high mark for high "run" by knocking out 100.

This is an exceptionally good run, and places Charlie in a position to capture the prize offered for the best run.

Harwood and Harby have yet to play this week's scheduled game, and this pair will play an extra game next week.

The pocket billiard match between Olmstead and Quinn proved to be another close contest, the latter winning by the score of 100 to 80, thus demonstrating the fact that these two players are evenly matched.

The game at night resulted in a victory for Quinn by the score of 100 to 75, the widest margin of any of the games played this week.

Olmstead, 62; Quinn to-night stands at 100. The game to-morrow afternoon and night, the final game to be played Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.
